RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

1. Connectedness®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You have faith in the links among all things. You believe there are few coincidences and that almost every event has meaning.

WHY YOUR CONNECTEDNESS IS UNIQUE

These personalized Strengths Insights are specific to your CliftonStrengths results.

Instinctively, you enter contests simply to have fun. In the process, you often find yourself part of something much larger such as building team spirit or raising funds for a worthy cause. This sense of being linked to other people means a lot more to you than finishing first or claiming an award.

Because of your strengths, you routinely isolate facts that link ideas, events, or people. You are especially sensitive to how one person's optimistic or negative thoughts can affect the entire human family. This prompts you to pay close attention to what individuals and groups think and do.

Chances are good that you argue that hard work influences the course of your life more than anything else. You make your own good fortune by preparing yourself to take advantage of opportunities as they arise. Each time you are successful, you can outline exactly what you did to reach a goal. You link together facts, incidents, conversations, or available resources to understand your accomplishments. You resist the notion that life is nothing more than a game of chance.

Driven by your talents, you desire to dictate the circumstances of your existence. You refuse to be a victim. You aim to leave your mark on the world. Although you want to be in charge of everything, you realize this is unrealistic. Why? You sense you are somehow linked to every human being on the planet. Whatever you choose to do or not do affects them. Their choices eventually affect you. You walk a tightrope between needing to manage every part of your life and knowing this is impossible.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

It's very likely that you bring people together. You form a bond with each individual as you begin to understand his or her circumstances. You naturally identify with someone's situation. You have a gift for helping people discover what they have in common. Often this frees them to communicate and cooperate.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING CONNECTEDNESS

You build bridges between people and groups. You help others find meaning by looking at the bigger picture of the world around them, and you give them a sense of comfort and stability in the face of uncertainty.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Help others see connections and purpose in everyday life.

- Use your sense of connection to build the foundation for strong relationships. When you meet new people, ask them questions to find common ground and shared interests that you can use as a starting point.
- Consider roles in which you listen to and counsel others. You could become an expert at helping people see connections and purpose in everyday occurrences.
- Help those around you cope with unpredictable and unexplainable events. Your perspective will bring them comfort.
- Show your friends and coworkers how they are connected to those around them. Point out specific examples of how their actions directly and indirectly affect others.
- Help your teammates and colleagues better understand how their efforts fit into the bigger picture. When people see that what they are doing is important and part of something larger than themselves, they will be more committed to the goal, and your team will be stronger.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You may react more calmly and passively to others' bad news, frustrations or concerns than they would like. Be aware that people sometimes need to vent and will want you to validate their feelings more than they want a philosophical response.
- Some may perceive you as naïve or idealistic because turmoil and upheaval likely trouble you. Remember that not everyone shares your connected view of humanity or believes that every negative event ultimately affects everyone.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

2. Empathy®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You can sense other people's feelings by imagining yourself in others' lives or situations.

WHY YOUR EMPATHY IS UNIQUE

These personalized Strengths Insights are specific to your CliftonStrengths results.

Chances are good that you may do whatever it takes to know someone on a personal level. Periodically the insights you gain help you bestow appropriate recognition on the individual. To some extent, you instinctively understand the level of attention or the amount of time the person needs from you to feel truly appreciated.

Instinctively, you are acutely aware of the pain, loss, and suffering that individuals experience at the hands of other human beings. Local, national, or international news of mayhem makes you want to intervene. You do not need to know someone to sense, in the very depths of your being, the person's utter anguish and desperation.

Driven by your talents, you are filled with awe by beauty in the world, in people, and in the cosmos. Whether you gaze upon nature's wonders or marvel at the work of human hands, you are filled with wonder. You can suddenly stop what you are doing to watch a sunset, listen to the rustle of leaves, stand before a work of art, hear a piece of music, look through a telescope, or hold a newborn child. You experience beauty at a level many people cannot imagine. Once the moment has passed, you can still picture the scene or hear the sound in your memory.

It's very likely that you hear the emotions in another's voice. Usually you know without conscious reasoning what someone is feeling. Many people are comfortable talking at length with you. Why? You refrain from interrupting them. You can interpret the unspoken messages hidden in their words and deeds.

By nature, you sense when a person can benefit from your support, kind words, or thoughtful deeds. Perhaps you have an ability to lift certain people's sagging spirits by what you do or say. In the process, you might enhance some individuals' self-confidence enough that they dare to acquire knowledge, gain new skills, or broaden their experiences.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING EMPATHY

> You have great emotional depth. Your awareness of the expression, value and implications of others' emotions makes them feel like you understand them.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Appreciate and refine your gift for understanding others' thoughts and feelings.

- Create a list of great questions that help others describe their emotions and experiences. Experiment using these questions with friends. Refine your list by keeping the questions that best help others express their thoughts and feelings.
- Practice refining the words you use to name your own feelings as well as those you observe in others. Try this: Journal your emotions for one week. Stop throughout the day to capture what you are feeling. Try to use different words to describe your experience each time.
- Be sure to decompress at the end of each day. Develop a routine that allows you to unwind and relax. If you don't, at times, the depth of your emotions might overwhelm or drain you.
- Refine your nonverbal communication. Sometimes it is better to be silent. You have the talent to show other people that you know how they feel without saying a word.
- Act quickly and firmly if people are behaving in a way that is unhealthy for them or those around them. Understanding individuals' emotional states does not mean that you must excuse their behavior.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Pay attention to your energy levels. Constantly experiencing others' emotions can be draining, so try to occasionally disconnect from all the emotions so you don't get burned out.
- Because you are so sensitive to others' emotions, some people might think you are prying or overinvolved in their lives. Be careful not to overstep when others prefer to keep their feelings to themselves.

STRATEGIC THINKING

3. Input®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You have a need to collect and archive. You may accumulate information, ideas, artifacts or even relationships.

WHY YOUR INPUT IS UNIQUE

These personalized Strengths Insights are specific to your CliftonStrengths results.

Because of your strengths, you probably enjoy reading self-improvement books. Tips, exercises, suggestions, questions, or resource lists tend to capture your interest when the topic aligns with your needs. Using the information you collect, you frequently concentrate your mental and physical energy on performing a task or using a skill better than you ever have in the past.

It's very likely that you amass lots of information by reading about complicated or intricate procedures, systems, or proceedings. As a result, you can describe the gradual changes that must occur to create a desired outcome. You list the required sequence of steps for a plan to work. You probably interpret things that can be difficult to understand, such as regulations, orders, policies, decisions, or problems.

Chances are good that you may be inquisitive about certain things. This partially accounts for your need to look up unfamiliar words in the dictionary to discover their meanings. Committing this information to memory might keep your mind fresh. To some extent, you to seek opportunities to use these terms in your conversations or correspondence with specific people.

Instinctively, you seldom feel that your knowledge is complete, and you often challenge yourself by thinking about what else you can learn. With every new piece of information you compile, you may feel like you have added a new chapter to your life story.

By nature, you are restless until you have collected enough insights to thoughtfully examine an abstract concept, theory, or idea. This is one reason why you are attracted to people who frequently engage in intelligent conversations. They intentionally avoid casual chit-chat or meaningless small talk.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING INPUT

> You seek and store information. Your pursuit of mastery and access to knowledge empowers you to make credible and well-informed decisions.

Keep exploring; always be curious.

- Find out more about areas you want to specialize in. Consider jobs or volunteer opportunities where you can acquire and share information every day, such as teaching, journalism or research work.
- Regularly read books and articles that motivate you. Increase your vocabulary by collecting new words and learning their meaning.
- Devise a system to store and easily locate information you have found so you can access it quickly. Use whatever approach works best for you — a file for articles you have saved, a database or spreadsheet, or a list of your favorite websites.
- Position yourself as an expert. Share your exceptional archive of facts, data and ideas with others when they need help or advice.
- Seek out subject-matter experts who would be interested in knowing what you are learning and who would find it stimulating to hear about the questions and ideas you generate through your exploration.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Unrestrained input can lead to intellectual or physical clutter. Consider occasionally taking inventory and purging what you don't need so that your surroundings — and your mind — don't become overloaded.
- You might have a tendency to give people so much information or so many resources that you can overload and overwhelm them. Before you share your discoveries with others, consider sorting out what is most meaningful so they don't lose interest.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

4. Developer®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You recognize and cultivate the potential in others. You spot the signs of each small improvement and derive satisfaction from evidence of progress.

WHY YOUR DEVELOPER IS UNIQUE

These personalized Strengths Insights are specific to your CliftonStrengths results.

Chances are good that you may find all sorts of reasons to compliment people. Perhaps you acknowledge their big successes, their minor accomplishments, their appearance, their suggestions, or their choices. Maybe you are pleased when you make someone feel important, happy, proud, accepted, or valued.

By nature, you repeatedly go out of your way to support, inspire, motivate, or embolden various individuals. You likely regard this task as worthy of your effort and time.

It's very likely that you work hard to show others that you care. You know that when you genuinely make people feel important, they will be more likely to cooperate with you.

Instinctively, you sometimes bring about a heightened sense of self-worth in people. Perhaps you have a knack for helping individuals feel that you appreciate, treasure, or admire them.

Because of your strengths, you truly want to understand as much as you can about people. The more knowledgeable you are about someone, the easier it is for you to celebrate the person's accomplishments and talents.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING DEVELOPER

You see the raw potential in people and even small signs of progress as you actively invest in their development. Your encouragement helps others learn, grow and improve.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Recognize and cultivate the potential in others.

- Make a list of people you would like to coach or mentor — people whose potential, signs of growth and strengths you have noticed. Offer to meet with them regularly, even if only for a few minutes, to discuss their goals and strengths.
- Call, text or email people who need your encouragement the most. Your natural ability to nurture and inspire might be just what they need to hear.
- Try not to spend all your time encouraging people who are consistently struggling in their role. Sometimes the best developmental action is to help them find a different role — one that fits.
- Find roles in which your primary responsibilities include developing others. Teaching, coaching or managing might be especially satisfying for you.
- Boost your friends' and coworkers' confidence. You will naturally notice when they learn and grow, so share your specific observations with them to help them keep making progress.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You may become overinvested in someone's development and feel personally responsible if they are struggling. Accept that sometimes, the best option is for them to find their own path forward.
- Be careful not to devote so much time to other people that you forget to invest in your own development. Remember that you can't help others if you don't take time to work on yourself.

EXECUTING

5. Arranger®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You can organize, but you also have a flexibility that complements this ability. You like to determine how all of the pieces and resources can be arranged for maximum productivity.

WHY YOUR ARRANGER IS UNIQUE

These personalized Strengths Insights are specific to your CliftonStrengths results.

Instinctively, you may want people to regard you as trustworthy, dependable, or reliable. Perhaps this yearning motivates you to do whatever you said you would do.

By nature, you are recruited to teams because you regularly produce good results and routinely reach your goals.

Because of your strengths, you think tried and true can be boring. What is life without variety? You may find yourself exploring "what else" as you look for new challenges.

Chances are good that you are not overly bothered by disorder or chaos. You believe it probably has an underlying order that you just have not figured out yet.

It's very likely that you know that every situation has a beginning and an end. You also know that there are various paths that can lead to the final objective. You instinctively evaluate each option and make wise choices as you sort through all the variables.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING ARRANGER

You have a natural ability to coordinate people and resources for maximum effectiveness. Your creative flexibility in complex situations leads to greater efficiency.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Improve effectiveness and efficiency by reorganizing resources.

- Volunteer your talent to organize. You enjoy being part of a team, and you can keep a group project moving toward its goal when you make suggestions for improving your work environment.
- Look for opportunities where you can multitask. Because of your expertise at juggling schedules and people, you will enjoy managing all the moving parts.
- Explain to others that your flexibility doesn't mean your priorities are constantly changing. You are simply looking for better ways to implement them.
- Seek complex, dynamic work environments in which there are few routines.
- Challenge yourself to find ways to make even the most successful systems and arrangements better.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Your tendency to continually reorganize tasks, projects and people might confuse others. Take time to explain your approach and how it can work better.
- People with dominant Arranger talents tend to claim responsibility for and take personal ownership of projects, processes and people. Be aware that when you assume control without asking, you might irritate others or discourage them from taking responsibility.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

6. Includer®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You accept others. You show awareness of those who feel left out and make an effort to include them.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING INCLUDER

> You notice those who are left out, and you naturally invite them in and make them feel welcome. Your ability to accept people without judgment fosters tolerance and open-mindedness.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Stretch the circle wider. Find ways to get more people involved.

- Look for opportunities to bring people from diverse cultures and backgrounds together. You might be a natural leader in connecting and enlightening individuals from different walks of life.
- Help those who are new to a group get to know others. You are great at quickly making people feel accepted and involved.
- Be a spokesperson for those whose voices are not usually heard. Emphasize the importance of including everyone's feelings and opinions.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- You might tend to include others to the point of unnecessary complexity, with too many opinions and conflicting efforts. Acknowledge that sometimes, you will need to be selective for the sake of clarity and efficiency.
- Even though you cast few judgments, be careful not to criticize those who belong to exclusive groups and clubs. While you likely disagree with what they stand for and might view them as elitist, remember that everyone has the right to choose whom they spend time with.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

7. Positivity®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You have contagious enthusiasm. You are upbeat and can get others excited about what they are going to do.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING POSITIVITY

> You have an infectious energy and enthusiasm. As someone who offers genuine encouragement and an optimistic outlook on life, you have the power to make people feel better when you are around.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Help others see the humor and positive side of life.

- Encourage others to keep their eyes on the positive by helping them see what's going well for them.
- Arm yourself with good stories, jokes and sayings to lighten the mood. Never underestimate the effect that you can have on others. Many people likely rely on your optimism to help them rise above their daily frustrations.
- Celebrate. Whether it's a holiday, an event or someone's success, be the one to plan the party. Turn small achievements into big events, or host regular celebrations that others can look forward to.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Sometimes your optimism and generosity with praise might come off as superficial, naïve or insincere. Make sure your positivity and admiration are always genuine; you can do more damage with false praise than with criticism.
- Be careful not to point out the positive side of a bad situation before others have the chance to fully vent. Acknowledge that sometimes people are not ready to hear the bright side and just need you to listen.

EXECUTING

8. Restorative™

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You are adept at dealing with problems. You are good at figuring out what is wrong and resolving it.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING RESTORATIVE

> You love to solve problems. Your ability to analyze a situation, identify potential shortcomings and modify as needed makes you powerful in times of difficulty and crisis.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Remember that every problem has a solution. Find the answers.

- Look for roles in which your success depends on your ability to solve problems. You might particularly enjoy medicine, consulting, computer programming or customer service.
- Seek out tough turnaround situations that others might avoid. You will enjoy the challenge of revitalizing something, and you will build your reputation as a valuable partner.
- Celebrate your successes. Difficult problems might entice you, but also acknowledge easy-to-solve issues that have big results.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Others might think that all you see are their flaws and shortcomings. Remember that there are times when people need you to see their successes and give them praise.
- You tend to focus on processes, not people, and you might automatically rush to solve every problem. Sometimes others need to solve their own problems, so try to give people space to experiment and find their own solutions.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

EXECUTING

9. Discipline®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You enjoy routine and structure. Your world is best described by the order you create.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING DISCIPLINE

> You need organization, order and precision. Your controlled planning and routines increase efficiency and bring predictability and structure to turmoil.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Create structure, and keep things organized.

- Check as often as necessary to ensure that tasks and projects are completed correctly and on time. You feel an urge to do it anyway, and soon enough, others will begin to expect it from you.
- Share your routines and structure. Your detailed lists of tasks, goals and timelines can increase others' efficiency.
- Accept that not many people are as disciplined as you. Instead of letting their processes frustrate you, try to focus on their results and not their methods.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Because of your need for predictability and control, others might view you as rigid and inflexible. Try not to automatically dismiss ideas that do not directly fit into the neat framework you have created.
- As much as you thrive on structure and organization, others thrive on the freedom to innovate. Be careful about expecting others to follow any structure you put in place.

StrengthsFinder® | Copyright © 2000, 2018 Gallup, Inc. All rights reserved.

STRATEGIC THINKING

10. Analytical®

HOW YOU CAN THRIVE

You search for reasons and causes. You have the ability to think about all of the factors that might affect a situation.

WHY YOU SUCCEED USING ANALYTICAL

> Your natural ability to investigate, diagnose and identify patterns results in valuable insights that are logical and well-thought-out. Your critical thinking helps clarify reality and provides objectivity.

TAKE ACTION TO MAXIMIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Use your logical, objective approach to make important decisions.

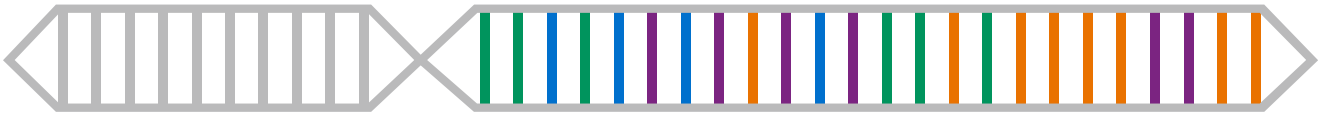

- Identify credible sources you can rely on. Find helpful books, websites, experts or other resources that you can use as references.
- Get involved in the planning stages of a new initiative or project so you can evaluate its feasibility and direction before it gets too far along.
- Accept that sometimes you will need to take action before all the facts are in place.

WATCH OUT FOR BLIND SPOTS

- Your objective and fact-based approach to decision-making may seem skeptical or critical. Keep in mind that others will have emotional, subjective and personal opinions — and that their input is just as valuable as yours is.
- Because you ask many questions, people may think that you always doubt the validity of their ideas, that you do not trust them and that you are tough to work with. Explain your analysis so they will be more likely to trust your process and your motives.

Your greatest opportunity to reach your full potential is developing and using your strongest CliftonStrengths. But it is also important to understand all 34 of your CliftonStrengths themes.

Your unique CliftonStrengths 34 profile
The themes toward the top of your CliftonStrengths 34 profile might show up regularly in your life, and the ones closer to the bottom might not show up at all.

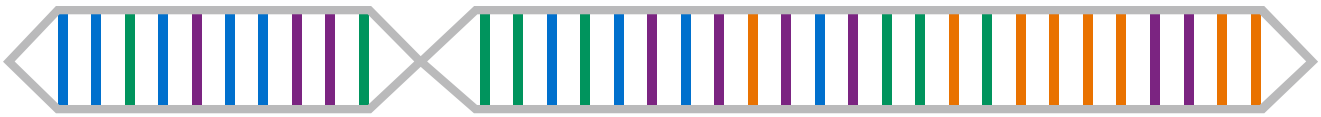

To fully understand your talent DNA, consider how all your CliftonStrengths themes, separately or in combination, influence your work and personal life. In addition to concentrating on your top 10 themes:

- Navigate the middle. You might notice these CliftonStrengths themes in your behaviors from time to time. And you may need to rely on them in certain situations. Think of these themes as a support system you can use when you need to.
- Manage the bottom. Just as your top CliftonStrengths show you who you are, those at the bottom may tell you who you are not. They aren't necessarily weaknesses, but they are your least powerful themes. If you don't manage them properly, they could prevent you from maximizing your potential.
- Identify weaknesses. To determine if any themes are getting in your way, review the "What Is a Weakness?" section on the next page, and find out how to overcome potential obstacles to your success.

Focusing on your CliftonStrengths doesn't mean you can ignore your weaknesses.

Gallup defines a weakness as anything that gets in the way of your success.
While the CliftonStrengths assessment does not mathematically quantify weaknesses, you can use your profile to understand how any of your CliftonStrengths themes might prevent you from maximizing your potential.

Your strongest CliftonStrengths are your best opportunity for success. But in some situations and with some people, these same themes can hinder your effectiveness and become blind spots.

The themes at the bottom of your profile can also get in the way of your success. They aren't necessarily weaknesses, but they likely do not come naturally to you.

To identify potential weaknesses, ask yourself:

- Does this theme ever undermine my success?
- Have I ever received negative feedback related to this theme?
- Does my role require me to use this theme, but I feel drained when I do?

If you answered yes to any of these questions, you may be discovering areas of weakness. Don't ignore your weaknesses. Instead, focus on your strengths, and work to manage the areas that get in your way.

How do I manage my weaknesses?

- Claim them: Know your weaknesses and how they get in your way
- Collaborate: Ask partners for support
- Apply a strength: Use a different theme to achieve a better outcome
- Just do it: Lean in and do your best

Identify Your Unique Contribution: The CliftonStrengths® Domains

While your CliftonStrengths 34 profile helps you understand who you are, there is also power in knowing how you make things happen, influence others, build relationships and process information. The framework of the four CliftonStrengths domains — Executing, Influencing, Relationship Building and Strategic Thinking — is another way to think about your CliftonStrengths and how you contribute when you join, create or lead a team.

The best teams are made up of individuals who understand their own — and others' — unique contribution to the team. This awareness and appreciation empowers the team to be more cohesive, versatile, productive and engaged.

However, be careful not to let the four domains limit your thinking. If you don't have any top themes in a particular domain, don't worry. That doesn't mean you can't think strategically or build relationships, for example. Everyone accomplishes tasks, influences others, builds relationships and processes information. You just use your stronger themes in different domains to get to the same outcome.

The next page shows you how your unique CliftonStrengths profile sorts into the four domains. Knowing which domain you lead with can help you understand your most powerful contribution.

The CliftonStrengths Domains

EXECUTING

People with dominant Executing themes make things happen.

INFLUENCING

People with dominant Influencing themes take charge, speak up and make sure others are heard.

RELATIONSHIP BUILDING

People with dominant Relationship Building themes build strong relationships that hold a team together and make it greater than the sum of its parts.

STRATEGIC THINKING

People with dominant Strategic Thinking themes absorb and analyze information that informs better decisions.
